It is with pleasure that I am sending this short history of the Martin family for your examination. If you enjoy reading it as much as I have, the many hours spent in making it, we will be well satisfied.

Two years ago I knew very little about the family and from the letters that have been sent it is apparent that very few others had any information, but when all has been gathered, it makes quite a history.

From G. R. McClure, McPherson, Kans. Jan. 1940

How many knew that Daniel Martin had been born in Bedford County, Pennsylvania in 1799, his coming to Ohio with his parents and five sisters to take part in the early settlement of that state, then in 1854 on to Iowa with his wife and nine children again a move to the frontier and the scattering of his children to the more advanced fronticrs, Phoebe and her children to Kansas, Charles to Colorado, Lafayette to Nebraska, and William to Oklahoma when that state was opened for settlement?

How many of us knew that the Village of Martinsburg in Keokuk County, Iowa was named after Daniel Martin or that in Ohio he had for twenty-five years owned and lived on a farm that is the site of one of the most noted structures of the Mound Builders? This farm is now under control of the U. S. Park service and leased to the Newark Country Club for a golf course. For my own part, when visiting in Newark in 1926, I played several games of golf on this course and while much interested in the wonderful construction of the octagon, I am sure my interest would have been much greated had I known that I was on land owned by my great grandfather one hundred years before.

The only printed description of the early life that I have located is that of Gilbert Brady (Doc) Martin which he gave the Hedrick Journal when he was eighty-four years old in 1932. If only one of the children of Daniel Martin had written about their early life in Ohio and Iowa.

With a little study, I believe that the number system I have used will be easily followed. Notice that Daniel has number 41, his first child, Phoebe 411, her first child 4111, and so on down the line.

Thanks are due to the many members of the family who have sent me the record of their own families and much of the other information. May I suggest that each family add to this history the many other items that would be of interest to their own family in future generations. Keep it in a safe place so that when the great, great, great grandchildren of Daniel are seventy or eighty that they can tell their grand children something about the family of former years.

Two hundred copies have been printed and a copy mailed to each family of whom I have the adress and copies will be mailed to others if their address is sent me. There is no charge whatever for as many copies as may be requested.

Several members of the family have written offering to help share the cost with me. If they care to do so, I will be glad to hear from them, for the total expense has been considerable for searching the old records of Bedford, Guernsey, and Licking Counties, for twenty stencil sheets and their typing, 4000 sheets of paper, multigraphing, and for mailing.

This work is not complete and I am not satisfied on one point. That I have not so far been able to establish D.A.R. membership for the ladies of the family. It is very likely that both the father of Daniel Martin and of Martha Minney had service with the Bedford County soldiers during the revolution. The search for this information will be carried on.

In order to be sure that some of these copies will be on file for future examination, a copy is being mailed to the following institutions:

GENEALOGY

HIS PARENTS FIVE SISTERS ELEVEN CHILDREN (TWO DIED YOUNG)

Daniel Martin was born on April 26, 1799, the first child of Andrew Martin and Martha Minney Martin. His birthplace was in southern Bedford County, Pennsylvania, either in Southampton or Bethel Townships. (Bethel since 1850, a part of Fulton County). He was evidently named Daniel after his grandfather, Daniel Minney.

Although all records have been searched, we have very little information regarding his parents. Apparently many years ago it was given out that his father was named Abraham Andrew Martin, a son of Captain James Martin, a well-known resident of Bedford County and a soldier of the revolution. This information I fully believe to be a mistake for several reasons-- Burton Barndoller, a resident of Bedford County and a decendent of Captain James Martin, has sent me pictures taken just lately showing the grave markers of Abraham Martin, the son of James Martin, and that of Abraham's wife, Elizabeth French Martin. These graves are in the northern part of Bedford County and show that Abraham died in 1831 and his wife, Elizabeth, in 1817. A grandson of James Martin in 1834 wrote a history of the James Martin family and made no mention of any Andrew or Abraham Andrew, but did state that Abraham lived all his life in Bedford County and was killed by a fall in his barn. The two deeds shown below are simply signed Andrew Martin and it is apparent that this was the father of Daniel, for he was giving the deed to John Minney, whom is known to have been a brother of Martha Minney Martin, wife of Andrew.

Bedford County, Book G Page 277 - Deed of Andrew Martin to John Minney of Southampton Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, for 90 pounds 15 shillings, paid by said John Minney, Conveys to the said John Minney, land and improvements in Southampton Township, formerly Colerain Township, between the forks of Bazzel Browning branch of the Sugar Camp, also adjoining the Green Ridge. Said Andrew Martin purchased the improvements of Robert Wilkins, November 5, 1799. Area of land not stated. Deed dated December 26, 1805 and 30th, year of American Independence.
Deed Book G Page 754. Deed given June 12, 1909 by Andrew Martin to Phillip Heavener, conveyed land amounting to 400 acres.

In regard to the family of Martha Minney, wife of Andrew Martin, we have some record. Martha Minney is supposed to have been born in New Jersey in 1775 and her mother's maiden name to have been Reeder. Book C Page 24, April 26, 1776, John Minney of Bethel Township sold land to Jonathan Harley. A Will filed May 7, 1795. Peter Minney of Bethel Township, To my brother, Daniel Minney's children, he leaves his estate, children named are Matthew, Phoebe, John, Daniel, and Rachel. Inventory shows that Daniel Minney, (father of three children), died in 1785, and that the estate was to be held until all children were of age, which was apparently in 1795, when the will was filed. (From the reading of the above will, it is apparent that Daniel Minney, who died in 1785, had a son, Daniel, Jr.)

Book 35 Page 2 January 22, 1798. John Minney, a minor child of Daniel Minney, deceased, and above the age of fourteen years, came to Court and chose John Fisher as his guardian.
September Court 1800. Before James Martin and John Dickey, Judges, there came John Fawney and Mary Minney Fawney, administrators of the estate of Daniel Minney, now deceased.
From these records, I take it that Martha Minney had a brother, John, and a sister, Mary, all children of the Daniel Martin who apparently died in 1798. The John Minney mentioned, moved to Ohio after his marriage to Eva Barnhart. A grandson, Tom Minney and his two children, Lester Minney and Mrs. Fred Clum, live at Fort Washington, Ohio.

I have tried to find if the John Minney, Peter Minney, or the two Daniel Minneys had any service in the revolution from Bedford County. Very likely, the John Minney who gave deed in 1776 was the father of Peter and Daniel Minney, Sr. The Pennsylvania Archives at Harrisburg have the Minney family indexed under the name Mooney of which family (Mooney) there were several residing in Bedford County in those days. As the original records are not available, it is impossible to separate the names.

Daniel Martin had five sisters of whom we have record, all born in Bedford County and coming with the family to Ohio in 1809. These five sisters all married in Licking County and there is some record of their families.

Rachel Martin married Captain Richard Stadden, January 29, 1824. The Stadden family were very prominent in Licking County. Richard Stadden served in the Mexican War, later as sheriff of Licking County and member of the Ohio State Senate. In 1859, the family came to Fort Scott, Kansas, where a grand daughter, Mrs. Lillian Prager, resides.

Phoebe Martin married Robert Campbell on February 25, 1825. The Campbell family, we are told, came to Ohio with the Martin family. Likewise, they moved with the Daniel Martin family to Martinsburg, Iowa where many of the family reside, namely, Dan Campbell, a grandson of John Campbell, and his children, Clay, Claude, Waldo, and a daughter, Mrs. Edward Warren.

Mary Martin married John C. Bigelow on December 25, 1826; a son, Isaac W. Bigelow, born in 1829, died in 1908. For many years he was a prominent attorney at Newark, a daughter, Miss Ann Bigelow, lives at Newark.

Martha Jane Martin married Edmund Metts, the date of this marriage is not given. The Metts family located in Iowa. Many decendents are living, the adresses of a few are Mrs. Elizabeth Bice, Lockridge, Iowa; Edmund Martin Metts, Pomona, Calif.; Harriet Mae Metts Bowhay, 4310 Trowbridge Street, El Paso, Texas; Josephine Metts Jamison, Columbus Junction, Iowa; Martin Fosbender, Osceola, Nebraska; George Weiser, Shelby, Nebraska; and Cecil LeRoy Leeds, Rock Island, Illinois.

Elizabeth Martin, married James Gibson. This family in an early day located in Iowa. Mrs. Stapleton, a grand daughter, lives at Mediapolis, Iowa.

Just the last few days and too late to check without delaying this work, I have received the 1850 census record for Licking County, Ohio. A. W. Martin, aged 35 is shown with children among whom is a Martha and a Daniel. Also, a Martha Martin, aged 75 was born in New Jersey. This record indicated that Daniel Martin had a brother named William and that he named two of his children Martha and Daniel after his mother and brother. Also that the lady Martha aged 75, was likely the mother Martha Minney Martin. Mrs. Anna Tuck, daughter of Richard Martin, writes that her father often mentioned visiting an uncle named William while he was a boy in Ohio.

In 1809, Andrew Martin, with his family, came to Guernsey County, Ohio, locating not far from the John Minn ey family in Harrison County but over the county line. There they lived for about eight years, then locating in Licking County, Ohio, not far from Newark, the county seat. This location about thirty-five miles from their former home in Guernsey County. The father, Andrew Martin, is said to have died about 1840, but the exact date and place of burial is not given in any information. There is no deed, will, or any record of his residence in either Guernsey or Licking County. A Mrs. Fant of Newark about 1900 made a record of every early cemetery in Licking County and she writes that there is no marker bearing his name. The mother, Martha Minney Martin, apparently lived with the various children after her husbands death, William, in 1850 as per the above census record. However, in 1859, she came with Rachel Martin Stadden and her family to Fort Scott, Kansas. There she died a couple of years later and is buried on the Stadden lot in the Fort Scott Cemetery.

No. 41 Daniel Martin, the first child of Andrew Martin and Martha Minney Martin, was born on April 26, 1799 in Bedford County, Pennsylvania. We have no information regarding his life as a boy except the record of the movement of the family to Ohio and their residence in Guernsey and Licking Counties. Then the following marriage record is shown in Guernsey County. "Marriage record No. 775 Daniel Martin and Sarah Hagan." I hereby certify that on the 29th day of August, 1823, I joined together in the holy state of matrimony, Daniel Martin and Sarah Hagan, both of lawful age". Charles Burnsworth, J.P.
No additional information is found until in the Licking County record there appears a deed that shows that Daniel Martin purchased a farm on February 3, 1827. This farm is located northwest of Granville.
The next record is Vol N; Page 15 - James Taggert of Washington County, Pennsylvania purchased it in 1796. Daniel Martin purchased May 22, 1830 - Containing 140 acres. It began at a post on the south bank of Caccoon Creek on the line of the Leapen Tract to an elm tree and so on (Said to be a very unusual deed which I wish I had in full). Daniel Martin was an associate judge of Licking County from 1842 to 1849. This farm included part of what is known as the Newark Mounds, one of the wonders of the mound builders, and which is now a part of the U.S. National Part Service, and leased to the Newark County Club for a golf course. The Octagon mound contained about fifty acres and the circle mound about twenty. They were connected by parallell walls. The mounds were of various soils, some of which seems to have been carried for several miles in leather bags.

Miss Mary Green of Newark when visiting her uncle Richard Martin at Hedrick, Iowa, asked him what they thought of the mounds as a boy working on his father's farm, his reply was that they considered them a great bother and plowed them down as much as possible in order to make farming easier; now one hundred years later, they are being restored as much as possible. Most public libraries have books showing the pictures and construction of these mounds.

Daniel Martin and family lived on this farm until the spring of 1854. The son, Charles, born October 14, 1831 when he was only twenty in 1851 visited Iowa and the next year crossed the plains and mountains to Oregon and remained there a year, returning east with an exploring party under Lt. Saxton. Thus after an absence of three years he returned to Ohio. Evidently his report of the newly farm of Iowa was so wonderful that is father sold his farm and with the unmarried children moved there. In November, 1855, the village of Martinsburg was founded named after the Martin family, Thos. B. Fleenor being the first postmaster effective November 22, 1855. The wife and mother, Sarah Hagan Martin, was born on January 20, 1803 in Mifflin County, Pennsylvania; died on August 23, 1890 her death being caused by Typhoid Fever. Daniel Martin lived twenty longer until August 23, 1890. Both buried in the Martinsburg cemetery where many of their decendants as well as members of the Hagan and Campbell families are buried.

The March 23rd issue of the Hedrick Iowa Journal has the following item by Gilbert Brady Martin (Doc) "I came to Iowa with my father, Judge Daniel Martin, in June, 1854, from Newark, Licking County, Ohio. and landed in a log cabin 16 feet with a lean-to kitchen, where nine of a family and four carpenters lived that summer. Father put men to work getting out frame timbers and shaving shingles, and went to hauling pine lumber from Burlington, 77 miles away, taking five days to make the trip living in it. In 1856, father took three yoke of oxen and a large log wagon, and a team of horses and went to Burlington, bringing back a steam saw-mill, which he set up in the went part of Martinsburg, just east of where Jas. Parrish now lives. There was not a treee 12 inches thick in two and a half miles, but before the mill was ready to start there were 600 logs in the yard, some of them coming eight or ten miles. In 1857, father again went to Burlington and purchased a shingle machine, which he operated in connection with the saw mill, and also put in a mill to grind grain, corn meal, and hominy.

The first store in Martinsburg was owned by a man named Fletcher, the first black-smith shop was run by Jacob Dwyer, and for several winters he shod cattle as there was so much ice the cattle could not travel the roads, and the families had to have wood and rails. It took sixteen shoes for a span of oxen. A village was started on the Benjamin Parrish place, east of Mt. Zion church, but in the winter of 1858, they put skids under the houses hitched eight or ten yoke of oxen and moved the houses to Martinsburg. The early doctors were Dr. Day and Dr. Dinsmore before the Civil War, then Dr. Ardery and Dr. J. D. Henry, they were fine doctors and everybody's friends. In 1855, I went to the Heninger school, taught by a lady named Hagey. In 1856, Mary Morgan taught. The school house was built of logs with a fireplace to burn wood. On each side of the house one log was left out for about ten feet and a row of window glass 8 x 10 inches were put in for windows. Holes were bored in the log just under the window, pegs inserted and a board laid on the pegs to provide a writing desk. The seats were slabs off logs with holes bored and legs set in -no backs. I wonder how the high school pupils of today would like to sit six hours on a slab seat with no back to it.

It seems to me the people of early days were more on an equality than now. My father used to open the doors to travellers who were out in bad weather, and if we had not beds enough, they would lie on the floors. I have seen the floors of two large rooms covered by people sleeping.

Merchandise had to be hauled from Burlington or Keokuk about eighty miles. There were a good many deer, wild turkeys, and millions of prairie chickens, river full of all kinds of fish. Plums and crab apples were our fruits and were fine as in that early day no insects had appeared to spoil them.

I remember seeing a man named Meeker plowing corn with an ox. Farmers cut their small grains with a cradle and hay with a aythe. My father and a neighbor bought the first corn planter in 1862.

Well, times have changed, but I don't know as people are any happier now than then. They surely were not straining every nerve to get money just to "Keep up with the Jones".

I have here written some of my recollections in a crude way. I am 84 years old, and do not remember a good many things that I might have written about.

(G. B. Martin 1932)

Last Friday, April 26, 1889, was the ninetieth birthday of the founder of Martinsburg, Daniel Martin, or as he is more familiary known, Judge Martin. The event was celebrated in a very appropriate manner by relatives to the number of about sixty assembling at the old home bringing with them many valuable presents for their aged ancestor.

After the delivery of the presents, the old gentleman addressed those present in a manner most impressive, thanking them for their tokens of respect and giving them only the good council which a long life spent in such a manner as his has been can give, and so impressive were his words that not an eye was free from tears.

There were four states represented besides Iowa. Levi Holler, daughter Flora, son and wife from Ohio, C. H. Martin from Colorado, Mrs. I. L. Flory from Kansas, and Melvina Martin, widow of Lafayette Martin, and daughter Lou from Nebraska. All his children living were present - four sons and three daughters.

Mr. Martin was born in Bedford County, Pennsylvania; moved to Ohio while that country was still a wilderness. While living in that state, he built by contract two miles of the Ohio Canal close to his home in Licking County. In 1854, he came to Iowa and built the house now owned by George Pollock and in 1856 laid out the village of Martinsburg, which remains as a fitting testimonial of the aged man who has been a lifetime pioneer.

DEATH OF DANIEL MARTIN

Daniel Martin was born in Bedford County, Pennsylvania on April 26, 1799 and died at his home in Martinsburg, Iowa on December 22, 189[illegible] at about ten p.m. He moved from his birthplace with his parents in 181[illegible] to Guernsey County, Ohio, and eight years later to Licking County, Ohio. He was married in 182[illegible] to Sarah Hagan, and to them were born eleven children, seven of whom are still living. This couple lived happily together until September 11, 1870 when the mother was called to her reward.

Father Martin was converted in 1846, uniting with the Methodist church and he was always found in the path of duty. He held positions of trust both in church and state. He was Associate Judge of Court of common pleas in Ohio for seven years. In 1854, he came to Iowa and in 1856 laid out the town of Martinsburg where he resided until his death.

Daniel Martin was energetic, Industrious and frugal, but never a miser. Genuine calls for charity were never unanswered by him. He firm in his decisions and having once decided a question, seldom changed his mind, although he was not nasty in giving his opinion. He is gone but his memory will long be treasured by his children and decendents. His kindness, honesty, and unostentatious piety made him universally respected and esteemed.

DANIEL MARTIN By Allan Flory

Daniel Martin was born in historic Bedford County, Pennsylvania on April 26, 1799. Near the turn of the century and in the year that Daniel Martin was born occurred several events every bit as important to the future of the United States as was the birth in 1799 of Daniel Martin to the generations of unborn American citizens, his decendents, they since, without exception, have been the stalwart, God-fearing and loyal American citizens. John Adams was president of the United States when Daniel Martin was born and Thomas Jefferson was vice-president. George Washington died that year as did Patrick Henry. There is importance in this setting of Daniel Martin's early life. There certainly was nothing of complacency of self-sufficiency or easy-living in the atmosphere where Daniel Martin spent the first ten and perhaps the most impressionable years of his life. If nothing else, if his descendents were endowed with none of the strengths, surely the thoughts of an ancestor born and bred under such circumstances provides a challange to the thoughts and acts of his living descendents.

Richard (Uncle Dick) Martin, whose illustrious life is so much a loving and prideful part of the descendents of Daniel Martin, late in his life recalled his boyhood life on the farm and the "Newark Mounds". In later years, the Federal Park Service took over the Mound section near Newark. Much money has been spent in restoring and beautifying the Mounds. That portion of the mounds located on the old Martin farm is now a golf course that is considered one of the most unusual and scenic in the nation. "Uncle Dick" Martin, however, recalled that his father and brothers worked long hours in trying to "tame those mounds", and to whittle them down in such a way that the land could be farmed. How much more of a chuckle do the children unto the third and fourth generation of Daniel Martin suppose their ancestor would give expression to if he were able to see them knocking a little white ball over the present gold course.

411 Phoebe Martin and her twin sister, 412 Harriet, were born in Licking County, Ohio on Jan. 4, 1827, daughters of Daniel Martin and Sarah Hagan Martin.

December 6th. 1849, Phoebe Martin was married to Francisco Flory at Newark, Licking County, Ohio. Francisco Flory was born October 4th. 1826 either in Alsac France or close to Buffalo, New York. His parents, George Flory and Mary Hines Flory, were natives of Strasburg, Alsac France. In France, the name was evidently spelled Fluer. Two of the older children apparently remained in France, as a son, George, was an officer in the French army and was killed in a duel. The daughter, Madeline, who remained in France, married a French Army Officer, and at her death, left four children. Francisco Flory had two brothers and one sister in America. Anthony was a farmer and lived for many years at Ottawa, Illinois; Mary married and lived at Buffalo, N. Y.; Abraham married and lived at Newardk, Ohio, where many of his family still reside.

In 1852 or 1853, the Frank Flory family moved to Ottawa, Illinois, where the father engaged in the butcher and produce business, having connections both in Ottawa and Chicago. One of his business cards reads "Central Market, 99 Madison Street Chicago, Ill. Fresh and Salt Meats, Fish, Oysters, Poultry and Vegetables. F. C. Flory" (Notice this location in Chicago). At the beginning of the civil war, he was very prosperous, living in a beautiful home high above the bank of the Fox river. In 1863 apparently he began to ship supplies, mostly of meat, to the Union army at Vicksburg, loading them upon the boats at Alton, Illinois. From his diary, apparently he accompanied the boats down the river, for on July 18, a few days after the capture of Vicksburg, he was at Clinton, Mississippi, which is about thirty miles east of Vicksburg. General Grant at that time had his headquarters at Jackson, a few miles east of Clinton, and he may have been to Grant's headquarters upon business. However, he took sick at Clinton and died there on July 18th. 1863, at the home of a Captain Ball of the Southern Army, to whose home he had been taken upon becoming ill. A brother-in-law, Richard Martin, a member of an Iowa regiment, was notified of his illness and was present at his burial.

Later in the year 1863, the widow, with her six children, moved to Martinsburg, Iowa, where her father, Daniel Martin, had settled in 1854. Seven years were spent at Martinsburg, when in 1870, the oldest son, George, came to Longton, Elk County, Kansas, and located a claim near Longton. There the family settled, coming from Iowa by wagon, a trip lasting three weeks; after living on this claim for several years, the family lived in Longton. A few years later the mother gave up her home and lived with the different children until her death at Hutchinson, Kans. on July 26, 1906. Burial was in the Hutchinson Eastside Cemetery on the Edgar Ardery family lot.

4111 Hattie Harriet Flory, born in Licking County, Ohio, February 12, 1851. She followed the movement of the family to Illinois, Iowa, and to Kansas, and at Longton, Kansas, on November 21, 1871, married Edgar Ardery of Iowa, to which state they returned and lived until 1885, when they located at Jetmore, Kansas, living there for five years and then moving to Hutchinson, Kansas. There Edgar Ardery died November 6, 1911, and Hattie Flory Ardery upon February 9, 1920. Both buried on the Ardery lot, Hutchinson Cemetery.

41111 Flora Martin Ardery, born October 24, 1872 at Columbia, Iowa. Married George Reitz on August 23, 1892 at Jetmore, Kansas. George Reitz died December 5, 1903 and was buried at Belle Plaine, Kansas.

Married William McCord Campbell on June 12, 1901 at Hutchinson, Kansas. (Home Chicago, Illinois).

411141 Edgar Robert Campbell, born November 11, 1911 at Hutchinson, Kansas.

4112 George Martin Flory, born December 16, 1852 in Licking County, Ohio. He followed the movement of the family to Illinois and Iowa and was the first member of the family to come to Kansas, locating a claim close to Longton, Elk County, where he brought his mother and the other children of the family. George never married and died at Parsons, Kansas, April 26, 1915, and was buried on the Fred C. Flory lot in the Howard Cemetery.

4113 Fannie Phoebe Flory, born Ottawa, Illinois, March 10th. 1855. First of the children born in Illinois. With the family, she moved to Iowa and then to Kansas where at Longton she was married to James A. McClure, April 30th. 1872. James A. McClure, a native of Ohio, had located upon a claim close to the Flory claim. They lived upon this claim until 1890 when they returned to Ohio, locating at Wooster, Wayne County. There the father died on April 4th. 1902. In 1910, the mother, with her son, Ross, returned to Kansas and located at McPherson, where she lived until her death July 14th. 1930. Close to the Daniel Martin farm in Licking County, Ohio, there was the Henry Moller farm; this farm is also noted as it included another of the mounds, called the Fort Mound or Eagle Mound. The walls were higher than the circle mound on the Martin farm and it apparently was used as a fort, there being a sort of moat or ditch inside. In the center there is the raised figure of an eagle, this was evidently a place of worship and offering as ashes were found in it at an early date.
The Martin and Moller children were great friends, and when the Martin family moved to Iowa in 1854, Levi Moller, one of the sons, accompanied them. He and Harriet were married while enroute to the new home. The father later married again and the family moved to Morrow County, Ohio, where two of the children married residents of that county. Later the family returned to Licking County.

CHARLES MARTIN

414 Charles H. Martin, born Licking County, Ohio, October 14, 1851. He evidently preceded his parents to Iowa, coming there in 1851; a year later he crossed the plains and remained a year in Oregon, returning east with an exploring party of U. S. troops under Lt. Saxton. After a visit to his parents in Licking County, Ohio, (it is possible that his information of the rich farm land of Iowa is what interested his father and caused their move to Iowa in 1854), he went to Ottawa and married Miss Mary Darney. It is possible that his parents stopped at Ottawa in their travel to Iowa and he accompanied them there. His wife died in 1856 and was buried in the early Martinsburg cemetery. In 1859, when the Pikes Peak gold rush developed, he left for Colorado and for many years operated mines at Georgetown and Empire City, becoming very wealthy, which wealth he lost in a venture to New York City as a broker on Wall Street. He then returned to Colorado and was attempting to retrieve his fortunes when he died March 16, 1895.
By his first marriage, he had one son, Jim, at the time of the fathers death, living at Boulder, Colorado. This son, Jim, died in 19 8.

In 1872, Charles Martin was married a second time to _____, who lived only three years. By this marriage, he had one daughter, Burdette; at the time of her fathers death, living in New Mexico.
At this time, 1938, we have no information regarding this daughter.

In 1856, with his parents, brothers, and sisters, he came to Martinsburg, Iowa. There he taught school for several years. At the beginning of the Civil War in 1861, he enlisted in Company D, 13th, Iowa Infantry, and served a three-year enlistment, engaging in some of the great battles of the war--Shiloh, Vicksburg, and Corinth. He was with General Sherman on his noted march through Georgia to the sea. Richard was wounded twice at Shiloh and Atlanta. On November 1st, 1864, he was honorably discharged and returned to his home at Martinsburg. He was a member of the Methodist Church for fifty years. In 1886, he purchased the Martinsburg Journal, and three years later, the Hedrick Enterprise, and combined the two papers under the name of the Hedrick Journal, and for thirty-seven years, with his sons, Walter and Charles, was connected with the operation of this paper. He died November 1st, 1926 at Hedrick and was buried in the cemetery at that place. On June 15, 1865, he was married to Martha Jane Hampton, who was born October 23, 1840 at Blountsville, Tenn. This marriage lasted forty-seven years, until her death at Hedrick on August 30, 1912.

4151 Walter Daniel Martin, was born August 24, 1871 at Martinsburg, Iowa. He was only fifteen when his father purchased the Martinsburg Journal and he began his work in that line. He continued with this paper and the Hedrick Journal until 1909, when he purchased the Frederick Leader at Frederick, Oklahoma, which he published until 1919. He then settled at Neillsville, Wisconsin, where he resided until his death on August 12, 1936.
March 16, 1897, he was married at Hedrick, Iowa, to Stella Fleener, born at Abingdon, Iowa, daughter of William and Iowa Fleener. Her death occurred June 4, 1933 at Neillsville, Wisconsin. No children were born to this family.

4152 Charles James Martin, was born at Martinsburg, Iowa, January 24, 1874. Like his brother, Walter, he at an early age began his life work in the newspaper business. In 1909, he assumed the operation of the Hedrick Journal, which he continued until he retired from its active operation in 1934, a continuous operation of twenty-five years.
October 30, 1910, at Sigourney, Iowa, he was married to Winifred Alexander, born August 9, 1874, daughter of John and Maria Alexander. No children born to this family.

4153 Anna A. Martin, was born on September 4, 1877 at Martinsburg, Iowa. Educated in Hedrick Public Schools and the old Hedrick Normal School. For five years, she was with her father and brothers in the office of the Hedrick Journal. Four fourteen years she made a home for her aged father until his death.
March 16, 1898 at Hedrick, Iowa, she was married to Allen A. Buck, who was born February 23, 1872 at Burlington, Iowa, son of Harvey and Maria Millhouse Buck. Allen A. Buck died January 13, 1934 at McGregor, Iowa, burial at Lamoht, Iowa.

After teaching school for several years, she was married November 1, 1875 to Robert S. Scott. They lived on a farm west of Hedrick until 1893, when they moved to Hedrick. July 5, 1915, Robert Scott was killed by a fall in his lumber yard at Hedrick.
Aunt Rachel, as she was known to all, was the one who kept in touch with the other members of the Martin family by her many interesting letters. It is to be much regreted that she did not put down in writing her information regarding the Martin family life both in Ohio and Iowa. For many years, she was afflicted with both blindness and deafness, however, she was always cheerful and taking much intereet in the life of her friends and relatives. She died on March 28, 1927 at Hedrick. Three step-sons survive. E. L. Scott [illegible] Des Moines, Iowa, Harley A. Scott of Fremont, Iowa, and Roy Scott, Mountain View, California.
